

Three Daffodils with Dwarf Mock Orange – Jacqueline van der Kloet/Colorblends.com

Daffodils are scattered among dwarf mock orange in an area of dappled sunlight in this spring garden combination by Dutch garden designer Jacqueline van der Kloet. Three daffodil varieties are featured: mid spring bloomer Narcissus 'Thalia' and late season bloomers N. Geranium and N. 'Louise de Coligny'. After bloom, the daffodil flower heads and foliage will be left to die-back naturally for six to eight weeks. During this phase, bulbous plants recharge with energy to support the following spring's blooms.
