

Janie McCabe

Janie McCabe, owner of MJ McCabe Garden Design, Northford, Conn., is an award-winning, residential garden designer known for elegant and enduring landscapes. After completing the Landscape Design Certification at The New York Botanical Garden, she traveled extensively to study garden design in England, Ireland and Japan. Her plant and garden designs, set primarily along the Connecticut shoreline, reflect the influences of these cultures. She works closely with a collaborative team of landscape contractors, masons and carpenters to realize her residential designs. Janie is a contributor to BulbDesignNotes.com, an online design project sponsored by Colorblends.com.
