

'Claire Austin'

David Austin English Climbing Rose 'Claire Austin' is an exceptional white variety, a rarity as excellent white roses are very difficult to breed. The flowers are creamy white, with outer petals arrayed in lovely concentric circles. It is one of the most fragrant English Roses, with a strong myrrh scent lit by dashes of meadowsweet, vanilla and heliotrope. The bush is strong and healthy, with an elegant arching habit and matte green foliage. It grows 12 feet. (David Austin 2007, Ausprior).
