

'Kew Gardens'

David Austin English Rose 'Kew Gardens' has small, single flowers that are held in very large heads in a look reminiscent of hydrangeas. The buds are soft apricot opening to pure white, with a hint of soft lemon behind the gold stamens. It is extremely healthy, nearly thornless and produces masses of white blooms, lending the bush the appearance of being covered with snow. RHS "Award of Garden Merit." (David Austin 2009, Ausfence).
