

'The Albrighton Rambler'

David Austin English Rambling Rose 'The Albrighton Rambler' blooms repeatedly from early summer till frost (most ramblers bloom just once per season). The small, blush pink, double flowers are perfectly formed, with a little button eye. The fragrance is light and musky. It grows 10 feet, an ideal size for climbing arches, pillars, walls, trellises and even small trees. Each bloom has about 85 petals. (David Austin 2013, Ausmobile).
