

'Wollerton Old Hall'

David Austin English Climbing Rose 'Wollerton Old Hall' is one of the most fragrant of English Roses. The distinctive strong myrrh scent has a delicious citrus element. The flowers open to beautiful chalice-shaped blooms in a soft apricot color that eventually fades to cream. Each bloom has approximately 45 petals. The healthy shrub is bushy, with few thorns. In areas where heat can be intense, position the bush out of afternoon sun. Grows 12 feet. (David Austin 2011, Ausblanket).
